

Transfer Due to Divorce—IRA/HSA

Use this form to transfer assets from a Traditional, Roth, Rollover, SEP, or SIMPLE IRA ("IRA"), or Fidelity HSA ("HSA"), to the same type of account of an ex-spouse as a result of a divorce decree or legal separation. Type on screen or fill in using CAPITAL letters and black ink. If you need more room for information, make a copy of the relevant page.

Helpful to Know

- A copy of the divorce decree or legal separation order signed by a judge must be included. Note: The decree or order must include language referencing the account(s) and amounts being transferred. If not, the settlement agreement incorporated or referenced in the decree or order that references the division is also required.
- Transfers must be between HSAs or the same type of IRA (e.g., HSA to HSA, IRA to IRA, or Roth IRA to Roth IRA).
- To request a transfer for an HSA and IRA, a separate form must be completed for each registration type.
- Fidelity is not able to accept instructions that require interpretation (e.g., calculations of earnings, interest, penalties, or "as of" specific dates).
- The ex-spouse must have an existing Fidelity IRA or HSA, or must complete and submit a new account application along with this form. To open a new account online, go to Fidelity.com/openaccount.
